CHANDRA MEETS MODI

Ahead of the transfer of the airline on Thursday, Tata Sons Chairman N Chandrasekaran called on Prime Minister Narendra Modi (pic). Later, he said the Tata Group is committed to making Air India a world-class airline

NOTABLE CHANGES

Smart and well-groomed cabin crew, better on-time performance of flights, and enhanced in-flight meal service are some of the measures the Tatas are planning to implement

AIR INDIA BEGINS SECOND TATA INNING

New owner hits the ground running, starts implementing customer-friendly measures, vows to turn around airline

KUMAR VIKRAM & ARSHAD KHAN
@ New Delhi

THE Tata Group, which had founded the nation's first airline in 1932 before it was nationalised in 1953, officially took over the management and control of the carrier on Thursday after the central government transferred 100% shares of Air India to Tata Sons.

"The Air India strategic disinvestment transaction has been completed with the government receiving ₹2,700 crore from Tata," a finance ministry statement read.

The transaction covers three entities — flagship Air India, low-cost carrier Air India Express and ground handling unit Air India SATS Airport Services Pvt Ltd.

The Tatas also took over ₹15,300 crore of debt in Air India and Air India Express, while the remaining debt of ₹46,262 crore plus an outstanding of about ₹15,000 crore towards fuel bills were paid off by the government.

Ahead of the official handover, Tata Sons chairman N Chandrasekaran called on Prime Minister Narendra Modi. "We are excited to have Air India back in the Tata Group and are committed to making this a world-class airline. I warmly welcome all the employees of Air India, to our Group, and look forward to working together," he said in a statement issued later.

Tatas will be retaining over 10,000 employees of Air India. And, as part of the deal, all of them will have to be retained for one year after the takeover.

As the Tata Group's priority is to turn around the loss-making carrier, there will be a drastic change in the working culture of the staff. In a letter to Air India employees on Thursday, Chandrasekaran said, "The entire nation's eyes are on us, waiting to see what we will achieve together. To build the airline our country needs, we need to look to the future."

The group has already started implementing some changes to attract customers. On Day One of its takeover, it introduced an 'enhanced meal service' in four flights that will operate from Mumbai. Sources said soon after the ownership transfer, a series of advisories were sent to the frontline staff, who interact with passengers.

Meanwhile, a consortium of lenders led by SBI has agreed to provide loans to the Tata Group for the smooth operations of the airline. Sources said Punjab National Bank, Bank of Baroda and Union Bank of India are the other lenders in the consortium.

BOUQUET GETS BIGGER

Tata Group, which already holds a majority interest in AirAsia India and Vistara, will have access to a fleet of 117 wide-body and narrow-body aircraft of Air India and 24 narrow-body aircraft of Air India Express. It will also get control of 4,400 domestic and 1,800 international landing, and parking slots at domestic airports

CM to present maiden budget in early March

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai will present his maiden budget for the year 2022-23 in the first week of March. The schedule for the Budget session will be announced at a later date. With the State going for Assembly polls in 2023, the upcoming Budget will be crucial for the BJP government and challenging for the CM as the state tackles a fund crunch amidst the pandemic.

Meanwhile, the State Cabinet on Thursday approved holding the joint legislature session from February 14 to 25, which will be addressed by Governor Thaa-warchand Gehlot. The government is expected to table several Bills in the Council, including the controversial Karnataka Right to Freedom of Religion Bill, 2021, which was passed in the Assembly during the winter session in December 2021. P6

K'taka sees massive 67K discharges in a single day

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA on Thursday reported the highest number of single-day discharges during the third wave, at 67,236. This also led to the recovery rate jumping to over 90 per cent.

Thursday's discharges are 26.63 per cent higher than the second highest of 53,093 discharges that the state witnessed on January 25. This is also by far bigger than the highest number of discharges that Karnataka witnessed during the second wave at 61,766 on May 22, 2021, beating it by 8.85 per cent. The discharges have been rising intermittently over the last few days with 41,703 being discharged on January 24, which is the third highest number of discharges in Karnataka in a day.

The high number of discharges against 38,083 new Covid-19 cases on Thursday, saw the state's recovery rate jump to 90.04 per cent from the previous day's 89.14 per cent, while the mortality rate dipped to 1.04 per cent.

Of the high number of discharges across the state, 43,997 were from Bengaluru, which saw its mortality rate drop below the 1 per cent mark, set by the Health Department at the outset of the pandemic. Bengaluru's mortality rate on Thursday fell to 0.99 per cent.

The huge difference between the discharges and the fresh cases also saw the active case count in the state fall to 3,28,711 on Thursday from the previous day's 3,57,909 — a drop of 8.15 per cent. Bengaluru's active cases fell by 12.16 per cent to 1,89,853 from Wednesday's 2,16,145 active cases. However, the high viral transmissibility witnessed during the third wave took the state's positivity rate (number of positive cases per 100 tests) to 6.02 per cent from the previous day's 5.98 per cent.

Regular market approval to two vaccines for adults

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

TWO Covid-19 vaccines, Covishield and Covaxin, on Thursday got the expected approval for regular market sale from India's drug regulator. But the vaccines will be available only for adults and sold at hospitals and private clinics, not pharmacies.

The Drug Controlled General of India's approval came after the Subject Expert Committee on Covid-19 of the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation had on January 19 recommended it.

Making the announcement, Union Health Minister Mansukh Mandaviya tweeted: "The CDSCO has now upgraded the permission for Covaxin and Covishield from restricted use in emergencies to standard new drug permission in the adult population with certain conditions. The conditions include supply for programmatic settings, including registration on the Co-Win platform and to continue to submit safety data on a six-monthly basis."

The government is yet to announce the pricing. The jabs can be administered in hospitals/clinics only as per the prevailing government guidelines. P9

Air quality bad in B'luru, Mysuru, says Greenpeace report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE three major cities of Bengaluru, Mysuru and Mangaluru in Karnataka are among 10 in South India with air pollution levels exceeding World Health Organisation guidelines despite pandemic-linked lockdowns and restrictions. The revelation was made by environment watchdog Greenpeace India, which has cited data from the Central Pollution Control Board (CPCB) for the period November 2020 to November 2021.

This is in sharp contrast to a recent report by the Delhi-based Centre of Science & Environment lauding Bengaluru's ability to hold on to gains in air quality made during the Covid-19 lockdown.

Apart from the three Karnataka cities, air pollution data from Hyderabad, Chennai, Amaravati, Visakhapatnam, Kochi, Puducherry, and Coimbatore were also analysed. "Coimbatore, Bengaluru, Mangaluru and Amaravati saw annual particulate matter (PM) 2.5 (particles lesser than 2.5 microns) levels exceed WHO guidelines of 5 micrograms per cubic metre by almost 6 to 7 times, while in Mysuru, Kochi, Chennai and Pondicherry, PM2.5 levels exceeded the guidelines by 4 to 5 times," the report said.

While the annual PM10 (less than 10 microns) levels in Visakhapatnam and Hyderabad exceeded the prescribed WHO guidelines of 15 micrograms per cubic metre by 6 to 7 times, Bengaluru, Mangaluru, Amaravati, Chennai and Kochi recorded data that exceeded the limit by 3 to 4 times. P7

Most cases in Jan are reinfections

Cases in Karnataka mimicking UK trend; over two-thirds were infected in earlier waves

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

ANECODOTAL data in Karnataka has shown that a majority of the Covid-19 cases in Karnataka are reinfections, mimicking the trend discovered in the UK by a recent study conducted by researchers from the Imperial College, London. The study found that more than two-thirds of cases of the Omicron infections are people who have been reinfected with the virus.

"Yes, we have also observed similar trends in the country wherein two-thirds are reinfections amongst those who are vaccinated patients with immune escape, resulting in breakthrough infections. Hybrid immunity has helped in reducing the severity of symptoms and mild cases with shortened duration of illness has been observed," said Dr Niranjan Patil, AVP & Scientific Business Head-Infectious Diseases, Microbiology & Molecular Biology-Head, & Biosafety Officer, Metropolis Healthcare Ltd.

Agreeing that he has seen many such patients, some of whom have been infected in all three waves, renowned pulmonologist and sleep medicine expert Dr Satyanarayana Mysore of Manipal Hospitals jokingly refers to them as "habitual offenders". He explains that theoretically it is possible to get infected with the Covid-19 virus multiple times. "The T-cell memory, or the antibody generated, may help in reducing the severity of the disease, but unless Covid-Appropriate Behaviour is followed and masks are in the right place, there is every possibility of the person contracting the virus. It is less of innate immune dysfunction but more to do with the place and nature of work, diligence, adapting CABs which may be the predisposing factor," he noted.

The Omicron variant can spread among the population at a rate three times faster than the Delta variant and the virus is different in its make-up. Dr Srivatsa Lokeshwaran, Consultant Interventional Pulmonology, Aster CMI Hospital, says that this could be the reason for reinfections in those who are already infected with a different variant and also in those who have waning immunity after vaccination. "Since worldwide, Omicron is establishing itself as the dominant variant, it's going to affect a large population which causes this overlap or feeling of overlap on previously infected cases," he says, stressing on the need for precautionary doses for all.

Meanwhile, elaborating on the reduced risk of severity in illness in many of the reinfection cases, well-known epidemiologist and public health expert Dr Giridhara Babu says that in most instances, immunity acquired following primary infection with SARS-CoV-2 will protect against hospitalisation and death upon subsequent exposure to the virus.

"Based on the evidence, the risk of reinfection versus primary infection was lower during waves driven by the Beta and Delta variants and higher for Omicron. This could be possibly due to the decreased level of antibodies and diminished protection against infection. However, this gets modified with vaccination subsequent or prior to infection," Dr Babu explained.

Take aggressive steps to curb spread, BBMP chief to officials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH cases soaring in the city, BBMP Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta held a virtual meeting with health officials on Thursday and directed them to take aggressive steps to curb the spread.

After reviewing trends of cases over the past week across all eight zones, he said, "It has been noticed that there is about 30 per cent reduction in day-on-day case numbers across all zones. Positivity has reduced from above 25 per cent in the last week to between 17 per cent and 20 per cent. But BTM Layout, Malleswaram, HSR Layout and Konankunte wards have higher caseload. Hence, stricter containment measures should be enforced in these areas."

He directed officials to map positivity rates of RAT and RT-PCR across all zones and report any jump in positivity rates. "All cases who were contacted and marked as home isolation shall be discharged on the platform on the seventh day," he said. Mobile triaging units shall focus on triaging 10 per cent to 15 per cent of overall caseload, and 100 per cent physical triaging of all cases recommended to hospitals or Covid Care Centres for admission, should be done on the same day.

He asked officials to identify the number of CCCs required, since most patients are in home isolation and therefore, staff should be re-deployed from those CCCs where there is zero occupancy. During the meeting, vaccination coverage of all four categories (first, second dose, vaccination for 15-17 years and precautionary dose) was also discussed.

CM TO REVIEW COVID RESTRICTIONS NEXT WEEK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE government will review existing Covid restrictions and also look at reopening schools, after getting a report from the expert committee, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said here on Thursday.

He told reporters after the cabinet meeting that he and his ministers had discussed various issues, other than the agenda listed for the cabinet meeting. "We discussed the status of Covid cases, Covid management and other issues. Ministers gave suggestions on various aspects," he said. Bommai also said that they had discussed keeping before the expert committee, memoranda submitted by various associations, schools and colleges. "We will decide based on the committee's recommendations. We are hoping to get their report in the next three or four days," the CM said.

Reacting to Congress leaders' allegations about crowds gathered at the Race Course during the derby, Bommai said the state government's Covid restrictions do not allow people to gather at one place in large numbers.

"This is not acceptable, and action will be taken against anyone who violates Covid guidelines," he added.

12 schools shut in DK

DIVYA CUTINHO @ Mangaluru

COVID-19 infection among schoolchildren is rising in Dakshina Kannada, with over 400 students testing positive. Besides, 68 schoolteachers have also tested positive, forcing the health department to shut down a few schools.

In all, 421 schoolchildren and 68 teachers have tested positive from January 1 to 27. Deputy Director of Public Instruction Sudhakar K confirmed to TNIE that 72 students, 57 of them from Belthangady alone, and eight teachers in the district tested positive for Covid-19 on Thursday. The highest infection rate among schoolchildren was reported from Mangaluru taluk. However, there is zero hospitalisation among students.

Dr Ashok, Covid nodal officer in DK, said the heads of schools have been instructed to take all appropriate steps even if less than five cases are reported.

Cong, JDS to put state govt on mat, BJP will try to push Bills

Oppn to take up issue of corruption, price rise, Covid management

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE ruling BJP, opposition Congress and JDS are girding up for the joint session of the assembly and council, due to start on February 14. While CLP leader Siddaramaiah and PCC president DK Shivakumar will try to put the government on the mat on several issues, the BJP will try to pass many pending bills, including the anti-conversion bill.

KPCC President D K Shivakumar told The New Indian Express that the Congress would take up all those issues which it wanted to take up in Belagavi, but could not due to shortage of time. "In the joint session, we will have a lot of opportunities. The issues we could not take up in the Belagavi session will be taken up in Bengaluru. The Contractors' Association has made serious allegations against the government by calling it a 40 per cent government, and we will also take up the misuse of power."

This comes after police filed several FIRs against Congress leaders Siddaramaiah and DK Shivakumar over the Mekedatu padayatra. The Congress called it "unfair", and questioned why no cases were filed against Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and several ministers who failed to observe Covid rules during the swearing in of MLCs. About 3,500-4,000 people were present, and Covid protocols were not followed, they alleged, and also listed out several meetings held by Renukacharya, Mallikaiah Guttedar and others, where Covid rules were broken, though cases were not filed, and called the government "selective".

"There are serious unemployment and underemployment issues in Karnataka, failure of the state government on the Covid front, and price rise of essentials. We will have a legislature party meeting where we will discuss these issues at length and decide as a party, and take them up. There is no coordination between ministers and bureaucrats," Shivakumar said.

CLP leader Siddaramaiah will call for the Congress Legislature Party meeting shortly, where the issue of bitcoins, overall failure of the government, and its lapses in Covid management are expected to be taken up.

JDS deputy leader Bandappa Kashempur told TNIE, "We will call a legislature party meeting shortly under the leadership of H D Kumaraswamy, where as a party we will decide which issues to take up in the upcoming session."

BJP General Secretary Ravi Kumar said the party will decide on the issues. "We will try to pass pending bills like the anti-conversion bill, freedom for temples, and issues concerning the upcoming elections."

Session expected to be stormy

IT hopes to get the Bills passed easily as its numbers in the Council have increased after the recent MLC polls.

The session is expected to be stormy as the Opposition is gearing up to take on the ruling dispensation over the handling of Covid-19 situation, while the BJP members are preparing to attack the Congress over the Mekedatu padayatra issue.

The Congress benches in the Council will also witness some change as the AICC has appointed B K Hariprasad as Leader of Opposition in the Council along with K Govindraj as his deputy. Also, former cricketer Prakash Rathod has been named Chief Whip in the Council.

Ikea to set up 2-yr incubation prog

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IKEA Social Entrepreneurship on Thursday inked an agreement with Saahas, a city-based NGO working on waste management, to invest 1.1 million Euros for a two-year intensive incubation programme for micro-entrepreneurs focussing on waste.

The objective of the incubation programme is to demonstrate an approach where micro-entrepreneurs can have access to financial and managerial support so that they can develop into a fully formal and healthy business.

The investment will be used to set up three plastic recovery facilities to be operated by three entrepreneurs in Karnataka and Tamil Nadu. It also aims at creating a roadmap for large-scale social inclusion as each business will employ over 20 people.

Belagavi: In an embarrassment to BJP members in Belagavi, a nude photo, purportedly of BJP Belagavi Mahanagar district unit chief Shashi Patil, was shared on a WhatsApp group of the party. The photo was reportedly sent from his own mobile phone to the WhatsApp group at least three days ago. Even before Patil knew about it, some members of the group had shared it with other accounts on WhatsApp. However, the post was deleted later. Patil's photo was clicked at a Goa hotel where he was staying for campaign, sources said. He is expected to clarify about the incident to the BJP core committee. ENS

BEL TO SUPPLY IoT DEVICES TO US FIRM

ENS @ Bengaluru

DEFENCE PSU Bharat Electronics Limited (BEL) and Hyperion Global Group, an infrastructure telecommunication distribution company, have entered into a contract to develop, manufacture and supply Internet of Things (IoT) devices for the US market.

As per the contract, BEL will manufacture and supply IoT devices worth US $73 million to Hyperion, based in the US, during the first year of commencement of supply, with a provision to negotiate and supply upgrades of the products, worth US $365 million, in the next five years, said a statement issued by BEL.

The contract was signed on January 21, by BEL's New York Regional Office and Hyperion in the presence of M V Rajasekhara, Director R&D, BEL, Nick Studebaker, CEO, Hyperion Group and Prabha Goyal, GM (BEL-Panchkula). Rajasekhara stated that they are hoping to supply lakhs of IoT devices to Hyperion in the next five years.

"BEL is looking forward to expanding its global footprint and the contract with Hyperion is another major step in that direction. Our Central Research Laboratory will be actively working on this project and our New York Regional Office, which is handling our marketing activities in the US, will be closely interacting with Hyperion for timely execution of the contract," stated Anand Ramalingam, Chairman & Managing Director, BEL.

Hijab Row: Students reluctant to take up online classes

UDUPI: The six Muslim girl students, who have been barred from attending classes while wearing headscarves at the Women's Government PU College, are not in favour of taking online classes, as has been proposed by Udupi MLA K Raghupathi Bhat a day earlier. Speaking to reporters here on Thursday, the students, who are steadfast on wearing the hijab inside classrooms, said they will not attend online classes. "If we agree to that proposal of attending online classes, it will again lead to discrimination among ourselves (fellow students). Wearing the hijab is our constitutional right. If we cannot get our rights in a government college, we do not expect that from elsewhere," the students said. They also pointed out that since they are science students, they have to take up laboratory activities, so online classes will be of no help. Regarding other Muslim girls in the same college attending classes without wearing headscarves, the students claimed that their other classmates from the Muslim community were worried about pressure on those demanding to wear headscarves. So to avoid all that, they have agreed not to wear hijab inside the classroom though it is against their wish, they claimed. Students said, "Moreover, to sit in the classroom without headscarves is not comfortable for us. We, too, have ambition to come up in life, we are not adamant, but we are seeking our rights bestowed on us by the constitution." ENS

Forest ecological value shows big decline from 2015 to 2019

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

FORESTS and the ecological system are a prime contributor to the state and central GDP, but their contribution and value are always undermined, say researchers, pointing to the recent report released by the Centre for Ecological Sciences, IISc.

"The Valuation of Terrestrial Ecosystem Services, Karnataka State, India" throws light on the contribution made by forests to GDP in terms of tangible and non-tangible benefits, but face the brunt of denotification. Prof T V

Ramachandra, from CES, IISc, co-author of the paper, stated that as the state government is working on preparing a green budget, it is important to understand the ecological and economic benefits of forests.

"Since proper accounting of the ecosystem has not been done, and forests are undervalued, the budget allocated to the forest department for better protection of forests is low. The biggest pilferage has been seen in mining areas," he said. Degradation of forest cover is a worry, and the recent forest cover report released by the Union ministry of environment, forests and climate change has listed monoculture also as a part of forests, which is ironic, he said.

He added that not just studies, but time and again, nature has shown that where there is monoculture, water availability in wells and streams is for 6-8 months, where there is natural vegetation, water availability is round the year, and where there are degraded forests, water availability is only for 3-4 months.

In the report, researchers have assessed ecological value from 2005 to 2019. They admitted that due to the pandemic, ground as-

In the report, ecosystem services were aggregated to compute the Total Ecosystem Supply Value (TESV). Researchers also compared TESV to the GDP of Karnataka, which is about Rs 10,128 billion. TESV of the forest ecosystem is equivalent to 18.1 per cent of the GDP.

Booklet on Bommai's work as CM to be released today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai will complete six months in office on Friday, which, incidentally, also happens to be his birthday. To mark the occasion, the State Government will release a booklet on his achievements.

With BBMP polls likely to be held in the next few months, Bommai faces a challenge before the ultimate Assembly polls in 2023. However, he said that no major announcements will be made on Friday as the government takes pro-people decisions as and when required, irrespective of any occasion.

The CM said a booklet will be released and instructed all the ministers and departments to publicise their initiatives and schemes till 2023.

This will be publicised in the print and electronic media.

Bommai said that they had discussed the BBMP polls which is likely to be held this year. "We are deputing ministers from other districts along with ministers representing Bengaluru Assembly constituencies for the BBMP polls. We discussed the poll strategy," he said.

When asked about Congress' allegation of disparity in grants among constituencies in Bengaluru, he said, "They should look back to check what they have done when they were the ruling party."

'Aaya Ram, Gaya Ram season will start soon'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

WADING into the BJP-Congress war of words over defection of legislators, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee working president Satish Jarkiholi on Thursday said defection of MLAs from one party to another will pick up pace six months later when the Assembly election in the state draws closer.

"Many, including most of the 17 legislators who defected from the Congress, several ministers and legislators from other parties are in touch with the Congress," he claimed.

Defending the claims made by Opposition leader Siddaramaiah, Satish said BJP MLA Ramesh Jarkiholi's statement that 16 Congress MLAs will switch over to the BJP is false. Ramesh and MLC Lakhman Jarkiholi are needlessly issuing such statements, he said.

"Already, the BJP is house-full with 120 seats in its kitty. Then, where will the party accommodate 16 more MLAs if they cross over from the Congress and JDS? Ramesh and Lakhman never speak on development of roads and other infrastructure facilities. The duo is involved in political trade and that's all," Jarkiholi said.

Hitting out at his brothers, Satish quipped, "Ramesh often plants bombs, some eventually explode, but some never make an impact."

He reiterated that none of the legislators from the Congress will cross over to other parties anymore, but MLAs from BJP and JDS will join the Congress in the coming days. Some ministers also are also planning to jump ship to the Congress at a suitable time, he said.

Ibrahim all set to bid adieu to Congress

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

WITH his hopes of becoming Leader of Opposition in the Council dashed, MLC and former Union Minister C M Ibrahim on Thursday openly declared his intention to quit the Congress and even give up his MLC seat soon. The Congress high command on Wednesday appointed senior leader and MLC B K Hariprasad as Leader of Opposition in the Council.

"Maybe next week, when the Council chairman arrives at the Vidhana Soudha, I am going to resign from my MLC post. I will take a call over my future political career after discussing with my well-wishers. There are several options before me, including the All India Trinamool Congress, Aam Aadmi Party and the Samajwadi Party. Even Kerala Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan is in touch with me. I will also discuss my plans with JDS supremo H D Deve Gowda," Ibrahim told TNIE, hinting at playing a role in regional politics. His Council term ends in June 2024.

Meanwhile, the minority leader has blamed Leader of Opposition in the Assembly, Siddaramaiah, for failing to safeguard his interests despite supporting the former to the hilt. "It is the end of my relationship with the Congress. I left the JDS, severing my relationship with stalwarts like former Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda, for the sake of Siddaramaiah. Now I feel orphaned," C M Ibrahim, MLC Deve Gowda, for the sake of Siddaramaiah. Now I feel orphaned," he said.

When asked whether the BJP was also an option for him, Ibrahim categorically denied it, saying that his ideology is that of 12th century revolutionary Basavanna's rather than Kesava Krupa's RSS. He termed the Congress' hopes of coming back to power in the 2023 Assembly polls as an illusion and even predicted the debacle of the party in the ensuing Uttar Pradesh assembly polls.

Ibrahim has been sending feelers about quitting the Congress for quite some time now, by calling on Deve Gowda and former chief minister H D Kumaraswamy, but did not expect the Council post.

Meanwhile, Siddaramaiah said, "I will speak to Ibrahim as he is my friend." "We have given him a ticket from Bhadravati Assembly seat by dropping incumbent MLA B K Sangamesh in 2013. Although he lost the polls, he was appointed deputy chairman of the state Planning Commission in the Siddaramaiah government, and made MLC for two consecutive terms," state Congress president DK Shivakumar said.

"My appointment is the decision of the AICC president. Ibrahim was also trying for the post. Since he did not get it, he has been naturally expressing his disappointment. Politics is not about likes and dislikes," said B K Hariprasad.

LET LOK AYUKTA IN KERALA REMAIN A WATCHDOG WITH TEETH

Kerala's Left government is in a hurry to curtail the powers of its corruption watchdog Lok Ayukta. A draft ordinance to amend the Kerala Lok Ayukta Act of 1999 was hurriedly discussed by the state Cabinet on January 19, and forwarded to the Governor for his clearance. The amendment would transform Lok Ayukta from a proper judicial forum that has the power to expel a public servant to a mere advisory body. It also proposes to downgrade the status of Lok Ayukta by allowing a retired High Court judge to head the body, instead of a retired chief justice of the high court or a former SC judge as mandated by the original act. It was another Left government—led by E K Nayanar—that initiated the formation of Lok Ayukta in 1998. Eminent jurist P Subramanyan Potti, who was tasked with drafting the act, picked strong provisions from the Karnataka Lok Ayukta Act to equip the anti-corruption body with enough powers.

During the national debates on Lokpal Bill, the CPM leadership had often cited the Kerala model and wanted the Lokpal to be entrusted with quasi-judicial powers and autonomy to fulfil its role in an independent, accountable, transparent and time-bound manner. A few years ago, Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan had proudly claimed that Kerala had a Lok Ayukta that not only barked but bit too. Today, the CPM and the government led by it seem adamant on weakening the very institution that they were once proud of. The logic is that the present set-up lacks an appeal provision. The amendment would make the chief minister the appeal authority for a verdict against a minister and the Governor for a verdict against the chief minister. The fact is that a minister's action might be the result of a collective Cabinet decision and the Governor is bound by the Cabinet's recommendation. Hence, this provision is in blatant variance with the principle Nemo iudex in causa sua (no one should be a judge in their own cause) that guides modern jurisprudence. And even if a change is required to fix a loophole, the right way to do it is to bring a bill before the Assembly. Let the collective wisdom of the Assembly help in formulating a reasonable amendment. The larger interest lies in allowing Lok Ayukta to keep its teeth.

T'GANA UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM PERSISTS

The unemployment problem continues to be a powerful political weapon for opposition parties in any state and Telangana is no exception. In fact, one of the cornerstones of the Telangana movement was ending the unemployment problem for good by emancipating the region from the yoke of Andhra rulers. But the problem remains where it was before the bifurcation of the state. Immediately after Telangana's formation, Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao had promised to fill 1.07 lakh jobs in the government. But of it, only 70,000 have been filled. The opposition says that at least 1.91 lakh vacancies are still there in the government. Now and then, whenever the heat is high, the carrot of unemployment allowance is dangled before the youth.

Recently, Telangana Cabinet Minister K T Rama Rao said in the Assembly that no government, whether in India or outside, can provide government jobs to more than 5% of the unemployed youth and that it was the reason why the state was trying to land investments. To call a spade a spade, one should agree that the BJP, which is pointing an accusing finger at the state government, does not have a great record in providing employment at the all-India level. It had promised 2 crore jobs per annum but the reality is not anywhere near that figure. The TRS too promised the moon but has delivered very little to the youth, who are hungry for jobs. As far as addressing the problem is concerned, the states and Centre should work shoulder to shoulder rather than going for each other's throats. The issue is too sensitive to be used as a tool for political mileage as it concerns the future of the country. As providing government jobs to all the unemployed youth is impossible, the only solution is to encourage the private sector, which can tap into the very large talent pool of the country.

Regime change policies are the staple of Anglo-American interventions in various parts of the world, including Ukraine. Ironically, they are alleging that Russia is now trying to do so

UKRAINE STAND-OFF A LOSE-LOSE SITUATION FOR ALL

PINAK RANJAN CHAKRAVARTY

Another round of inconclusive negotiations ended recently in Geneva, after Russian Foreign Minister Sergei Lavrov and American Secretary of State Antony Blinken attempted to unravel the stand-off over Ukraine. Russian President Vladimir Putin and US President Joe Biden had discussed the situation in December, raising hopes of lowering of tensions. Earlier, they had an in-person meeting in June. Preceding the summit meetings, bilateral talks at various levels, including between the intelligence chiefs of both sides, had taken place amidst a barrage of threats. Both sides are adamantly sticking to their positions.

Russia has deployed around 1,20,000 of its armed forces on the Ukrainian border, poised for a military intervention, though she has denied any such intention. The US has warned of further economic sanctions if Russia were to invade Ukraine. The unrest in the Donbas region of Ukraine has gathered momentum since the ouster of pro-Russian President Viktor Yanukovich and his government. Moscow has been blamed for fomenting unrest, as ethnic Russians are the largest minority in Donbas. Its recent intervention in Kazakhstan was instrumental in controlling the unrest there and protecting the government of pro-Russian President Kassym-Jomart Tokayev.

Geopolitics in this region is mired in the architecture of security ties and alliances that have evolved in the post-Cold War era. Russia is demanding binding security guarantees, banning Ukraine from joining NATO and the withdrawal of that group's forces to positions held in 1997, before the former Warsaw pact East European countries joined the EU. The US has agreed to send a written response to Russian demands. America and her NATO allies maintain that joining the group is a sovereign decision by an independent country—sidestepping the fact that they have been actively wooing and expanding NATO closer to the Russian border.

The US warning of economic sanctions has not deterred Russia, which has put her security above the impact of such threats. America has airlifted military assistance to Ukraine and begun increasing NATO troops and arms build-up in frontline states like Poland and the Baltic nations, and increased naval forays into the Black Sea. It has upped the ante by announcing withdrawal of family of Embassy personnel in Kiev, thinning down diplomatic presence and issued an advisory asking its citizens to avoid travelling to Russia.

Russia is already under Western economic sanctions, following the dramatic 2014 takeover of Crimea. This annexation was the first case of changing an international border in Europe in recent times, causing a major geopolitical dispute that led to Western condemnation and sanctions. Russia organised a referendum that endorsed annexation of Crimea. The strategic dimension of Russia's annexation was to protect its naval base at Sevastopol. Russia had obtained this area from Ukraine on lease after the Soviet Union broke up and was apprehensive that it might not be renewed. The Sevastopol base is crucial for Russia's naval operations in the Mediterranean and beyond.

The US and EU are not on the same page on sanctions. The resignation of the German Navy chief, soon after his visit to India, exemplifies divisions within that country, the EU's biggest economy. The German Navy chief had made remarks supportive of Putin. Germany has also opposed military aid to Ukraine by some EU countries. European nations have ruled out sending NATO troops to defend Ukraine and seem lukewarm on agreeing to specific sanctions. Meanwhile, the UK and US have supplied lethal arms to Ukraine and charged Putin with attempting regime change in Kiev. Regime change policies have long been the staple of Anglo-American interventions in various parts of the world. In Ukraine, Western powers instigated un-

If war breaks out in Ukraine, it will not be good for any country including India. Taking sides is a no-go area for New Delhi, which explains the lack of any official comment from the government. rest to overthrow the pro-Russian Yanukovich government. Ironically, they are alleging that Russia is trying to force a regime change in Ukraine.

The US, EU and NATO are culpable for provoking Russia, by expanding NATO into Moscow's "backyard". Not even all EU members are included in NATO—Sweden and Finland are not. So why insist on Ukraine? Many important American strategic experts had opposed NATO's expansion eastwards. Apparently, old Cold Warriors are still active in the US. Putin's Russia is seen as authoritarian and a challenge to Western interests in Europe and West Asia. Instead of accommodating Russia in new EU structures, Western nations have been provoking her, though with her GDP comparable to Spain, she poses no real threat to Europe or the US.

The post-Cold War agenda of democracy promotion and maintaining a liberal global order that became guiding principles of American foreign policy led to another version of containment against Moscow. Russia has been sandwiched between the West and an economically powerful and stronger China. In stark contrast is the approach of the US towards a far more aggressive China, which is openly identified as a geopolitical competitor. The reason is obvious: Wall Street and American businesses have invested heavily in China. In contrast, Russia is economically unimportant, except for oil and gas supplies to EU countries, which explains the reluctance of Europe to apply sanctions. The US is still smarting from her humiliating withdrawal from Afghanistan and, perhaps, wants to put up a more muscular face towards Russia. Accepting Russia's demands on rolling back NATO will add another failure to Biden's foreign policy and undermine the alliance with Europe.

If war breaks out in Ukraine, it will be a lose-lose development for all, including India, which has developed closer ties with the US and has traditional close links with Russia. Taking sides is a no-go area for India, which explains the lack of any official comment from the government. If Russia edges closer to China as a result of this crisis, it will complicate matters for India, given her requirement of military hardware from the former. Russia and China are locked into an energy partnership worth $400 billion. Russia's oil and gas exports add up to 80% of her exports. Unrest in Kazakhstan and other Central Asian countries can disrupt gas pipelines to China. The NATO edging closer to China's borders cannot be a cause of comfort for Beijing. Geopolitics in the Eurasian theatre will impact China-Russia ties, as Moscow reasserts her primacy in former Soviet republics. Currently taking tentative steps towards economic recovery, a military conflict in Ukraine is not only irrational but the last thing that our pandemic-hit world needs.

EKAPADA, THE SINGLE-FOOTED DIVINITY

SRINIVAS SISTLA

Associate Professor, Department of Fine Arts, Andhra University, Visakhapatnam

It may appear strange and surprising, but nearly every religion and culture in the world has an unusual motif of a supernatural single-footed being, all associated with a unique myth and symbolism. In India, such an image is known as eka-pada (single-footed). The Rig Veda, the earliest known text of India, frequently mentions Aja Ekapada along with Ahi Budhnya (serpent of the deep). Aja Ekapada could be translated either as 'the one-footed goat' or as 'the unborn single-footed one'. During the first half of the 20th century, many Western scholars had written about Aja Ekapada, identifying the deity with the sun, moon, thunderbolt, storm, waterspout, etc. In 1933, Jean Przyluski, a French Indologist, had interpreted the single leg of the figure as the axis mundi; and in 1961, art historian Stella Kramrisch had stated that the leg represents the polar axis.

Way back in 1918, an unidentified terracotta relief figure (c. 400 CE, Gupta period) from Rajasthan's Rang Mahal, now in the Bikaner Museum, was published in an archaeological report. In 1959, the figure was wrongly identified as 'a monster' in another report. However in 1960, V S Agrawala rightly identified the relief as Aja Ekapada. The relief shows the figure in standing posture, slightly inclined to the left, having a goat's head and a pair of horns, a human torso with a pair of human hands, and a massive leg with the foot of an elephant.

The Vedic hymns, to the best of my knowledge, make no mention of any part of the elephant in the context of Aja Ekpada; and hence, scholars had pondered upon the issue and expressed different opinions, which remain unsatisfactory. Incidentally, many animals take a leap into the air; whereas, the elephant would never jump up from the ground because of its mammoth size and bone structure. Most likely for the same reason, in ancient Indian literature, the elephant has been mentioned frequently as a symbol of the Earth's stability. Hence, in my opinion, the elephant's foot in the unique Rang Mahal relief of Aja Ekapada seems to be a poetic/artistic mode of indicating the firmness and the stability with which the deity stands on the Earth on his single leg.

In the Vedic literature, Aja Ekapada has also been associated with a few other divinities, including Agni (God of Fire) who possesses the ram/goat as his vehicle. In the Puranas as well as in Indian art, the Ekapada concept has been fixed firmly with Rudra-Siva. From about the 8th century onwards, in many temples in Odisha, north-coastal Andhra and Tamil Nadu, and also in Nepal, various images of Ekapada Siva have been placed in one of the external niches of the central shrine. They include Ekapada-Siva, Rudra and Bhairava and Siva Ekapada Trimurti. Though no temple seems to have been exclusively dedicated to Ekapada Siva, a memorial stone in the Bhubaneswar Museum shows the single-footed Siva as the central deity at the top of the panel. This unique representation might suggest that Ekapada Siva was also revered as the Supreme One. The Atharva Veda (13. 1. 6) hails Aja Ekapada as the 'One who had stabilised both Earth and Heaven with His might'. The same idea of bringing stability to two different realms in one step, in my opinion, has been suggested in visual art by means of the single leg of the divinity.

Awards for political gains

When there are many veterans who deserve the Padma, the Centre went out of its way to present one to Ghulam Nabi Azad. The BJP already has the upper hand in Jammu and it does look like a mutual understanding to get hold of the Kashmir valley with the support of Azad, who is expected to launch a new party. It looks like an instance of using awards for political gains.

Devoid of morality

The move by the LDF government to dilute the powers of the Lok Ayukta is hasty. It is heartening to find that the Governor has said that he will not act hastily in this matter and study all aspects. The government's decision only shows the challenges that such anti-graft bodies face due to corrupt politicians and rulers devoid of morality.

Stem freebies rot

The editorial Time to root out promise of irrational freebies (Jan 27) is timely. In the absence of stringent laws to deal with this menace, political parties are promising freebies with gay abandon. The alarming level of state debts that keep on spiralling are of no concern to them. Only the court can stem this rot by ruling freebies as equivalent to bribing voters and holding parties indulging in this guilty.

Fall in capital expenditure

Increase in the outstanding liabilities of states and the fall in capital expenditure, all because of irrational freebies, is hardly noticed by many. It amounts to cheating the common man by the so-called elite. It has to be checked, as you have pointed out, before "all states collapse under the weight of the promises of political parties".

'Afghanistan must not become terror haven'

Call adopted in Delhi declaration after India-Central Asia summit, leaders agree to constitute joint working group

YESHI SELI @NewDelhi

THE situation in Afghanistan featured prominently in the first India-Central Asia Summit, hosted virtually by PM Narendra Modi on Thursday.

The Summit was attended by the Presidents of Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan and Kyrgyz Republic. It was decided that a joint working group on Afghanistan would be formed, said Ministry of External Affairs Secretary (West) Reenat Sandhu.

The situation in Afghanistan and its impact on the security and stability of the region was a highlight of the discussions. The leaders felt there is a need to support peace in Afghanistan.

stan. They agreed that terrorism must be comprehensively countered to achieve a 'world free of terror.' They expressed satisfaction in their bilateral counter-terrorism military exercises with India.

The leaders reaffirmed the importance of UNSC Resolution 2593 (2021), which unequivocally demands that Afghanistan territory not be used for sheltering, training, planning or financing terrorist acts and called for concerted action against all terrorist groups, including those sanctioned by the United Nations Security Council. They also agreed to continue close consultations on the Afghanistan situation.

PM Modi spoke about his principle of 'support for all, development for all, trust for all and efforts for all.'

The Turkmenistan, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India (TAPI) gas pipeline project has been on the backburner for a long time now, due to instability in Afghanistan. Hopes of reviving this project were raised at the Summit. The leaders felt there would be large-scale and long-term economic cooperation between Central Asian countries and India in order to strengthen and expand inter-region connectivity.

"The leaders expressed solidarity with those affected by the Covid-19 pandemic and called for collective efforts in the fight against the pandemic. They stressed the importance of extensive vaccination, vaccine supply, transfer of technology, development of local production capacities, promotion of supply chains for medical products and ensuring transparency," said Sandhu.

Miram Taron flanked by Indian Army personnel after being released by Chinese PLA

China hands over Arunachal teen, parents delighted

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @Gowahati

THE Chinese People's Liberation Army (PLA) on Thursday handed over Miram Taron to the Indian Army, nine days after the 17-year-old from Arunachal Pradesh was reported missing from the fuzzy India-China border.

Union Law Minister Kiren Rijiju broke the news. "The PLA has handed over the young boy from Arunachal Pradesh Shri Miram Taron to Indian Army. Due procedures are being followed including the medical examination," he tweeted.

He lauded the Indian Army for pursuing the case with PLA and securing the boy's return.

Lok Sabha member from the state, Tapir Gao said the handing over had taken place at Wacha-Damai in Kibithu of Arunachal's Anjaw district. Between Anjaw and Upper Siang, from where the boy was reported missing, lies the Lower Dibang Valley district.

Sources said Miram would be quarantined somewhere before being taken home. A planned video conference of the boy with his parents did not happen. The Army had briefly got the parents connected with Miram over the phone.

"I tried to lift his spirits as advised by an Army officer. I asked him to not worry since he is now in India. But when my wife spoke to him, he started crying," the boy's father Opang said. He also said that the teenager would be received by the entire Zido village following his arrival. "We thank god, the government and Indian Army for securing his safe return," the father added.

His wife had taken ill and was going through hypertension ever since the teenager's disappearance on January 18. Miram and his friend, Johnny Yaying, had ventured into a forest near the LAC to hunt wild animals and collect medicinal herbs. The site is around 35-40 km away from their village.

While Miram was allegedly taken into custody by Chinese soldiers, Johnny had managed to flee. He reached Tuting, the nearest circle headquarters, the next day and informed villagers and authorities of the incident. Later, the Indian Army contacted the PLA through hotline and sought assistance "to locate and return the boy as per protocol". The Army had also shared the boy's personal details, including photograph and Aadhaar card.

R-DAY TALK

Human rights situation in India worries former VP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @NewDelhi

FORMER Vice-President Hamid Ansari has expressed grave concerns over India's recent record in protecting human rights, civil liberties and religious freedom. At a virtual event held in Washington DC on Wednesday, to coincide with Republic Day, Ansari warned the country is veering from its constitutional values.

"In recent years, we have experienced the emergence of trends and practises that dispute the well-established principle of civic nationalism, and interposes a new and imaginary practice of cultural nationalism," he said.

Stating that almost 20% of the population are minorities, Ansari described India's majoritarian turn as "chilling". "It seeks to present an electoral majority in the guise of a religious majority and monopolised political power. It wants to distinguish citizens on the basis of their faith, give vent to intolerance, insinuate otherness and promote disquiet and insecurity." He was speaking at a 'Special Congressional Briefing on Protecting India's Pluralist Constitution', organised by the Indian American Muslim Council (IAMC).

Ansari's statement drew flak from Union Minority Affairs Minister Mukhtar Abbas Naqvi, who said the event was organised by a group that had a "link with SIMI and ISI".

Centre extends Covid guidelines till February 28

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @NewDelhi

THE Centre on Thursday extended the existing Covid-19 guidelines under the Disaster Management Act till February 28, in view of the third wave of the pandemic powered by the Omicron variant.

In a letter to the states and UTs, Union Home Secretary Ajay Kumar Bhalla urged them to not let their guard down and stated that 407 districts in the country are still reporting a positivity rate of over 10%.

Bhalla pointed out that active cases have increased to over 22 lakh, even though a majority of patients are recovering fast and a low percentage are in hospitals.

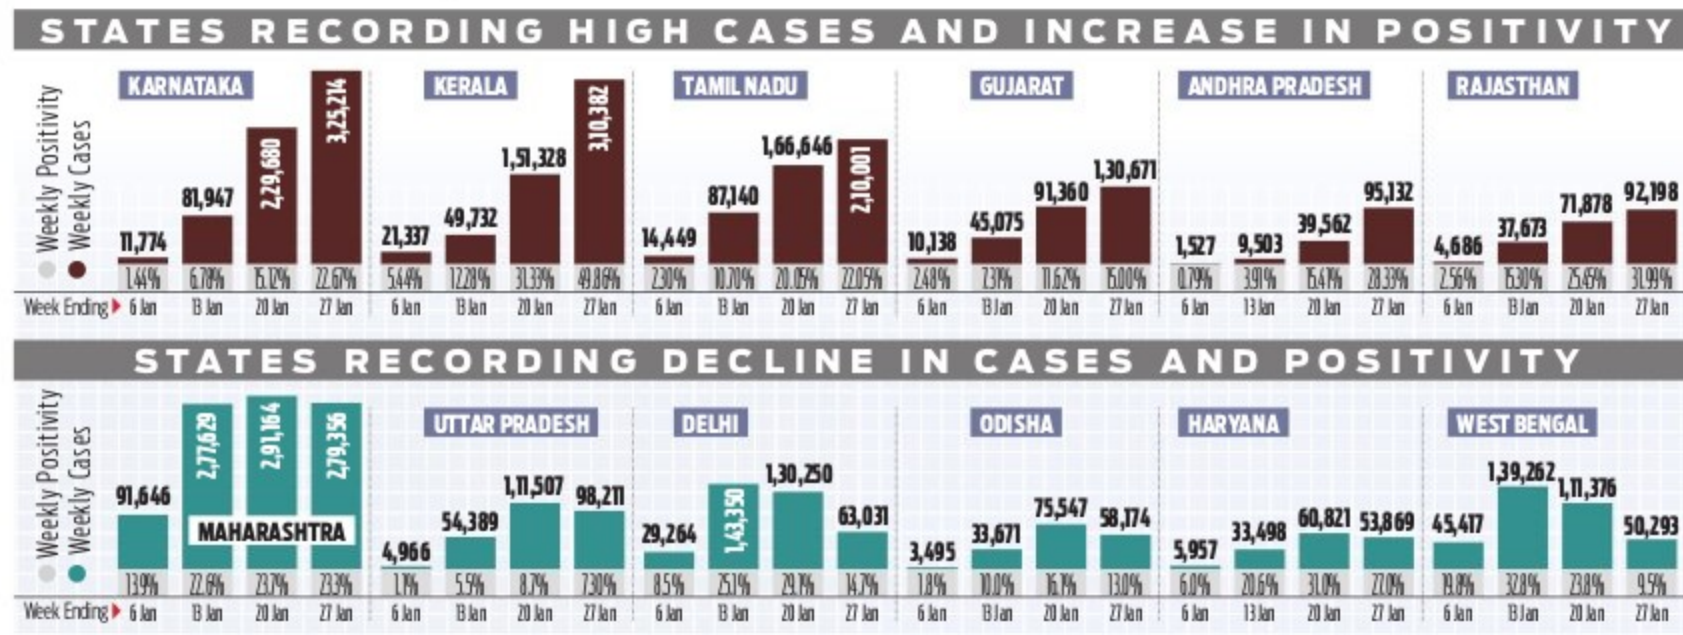

"It is still a matter of concern that 407 districts in 34 states and Union Territories are reporting a positivity rate of more than 10%. Therefore, looking at the current trends of Covid, there is a need to exercise caution and vigilance," the senior bureaucrat said.

Referring to a normative framework given by the health ministry on December 12, he said local and district administrations should continue to take prompt and appropriate containment measures. "Imposition and lifting of local curbs and restrictions should be dynamic, based on the case positivity and hospitalisation status at the local level," Bhalla said.

He reiterated the importance of the five-fold strategy of test, track, treat, vaccinate and adherence to Covid-appropriate behaviour.

"I would urge you to issue necessary directions to the districts and all other local authorities, to take necessary measures for prompt and effective management of COVID-19, strict compliance with various advisories issued by the MoHFW on the new variant of concern (Omicron) and strict enforcement of Covid-appropriate behaviour," he said.

EX-CIVIL SERVANTS DECRY PROPOSED IAS AMENDMENTS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @NewDelhi

A group of nearly 100 former civil servants termed the proposed amendments to the Cadre Rules of the three all India services (AIS) as arbitrary, unreasonable and unconstitutional.

"They interfere with the basic structure of the Constitution of India as a Union of States and can cause irreparable damage to the one institution which Sardar Patel held as being the most critical to the unity of the country," said a statement issued by former bureaucrats under the aegis of Constitutional Conduct Group (CCG).

"Will a government which holds the Sardar in higher esteem than any other figure in the history of the freedom movement pay heed to his words and drop the proposal to change the AIS Cadre Rules?" the statement said.

They said that the proposed amendments to the cadre rules of the three AIS seek to give unilateral powers to the Union to pick and choose any AIS officer (s) working in the states to be withdrawn from their services in the state of their allotment and brought to the Centre without the concurrence of either the officer concerned or of the state government the officer is serving. "While this change in the rules may appear to be a minor, technical one, in fact, hits at the very core of the constitutional scheme of Indian federalism," they said.

The proposed amendment makes a mockery of the delicate federal balance that the AIS are designed to maintain. "The whole idea of the Centre not having a 'cadre' of its own but having to 'borrow' the services of an officer for specific periods at key senior management levels is destroyed if the state as a 'lender' has no authority on what it lends and on what terms and conditions, but the borrower, on the other hand, exercises superior rights over the lender," they said.

Denied care, lady delivers stillborn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bhopal

In a shocking episode, a woman delivered a stillborn on the road, after being denied treatment at a government hospital in Bhopal district of Madhya Pradesh. This happened on Tuesday, when a six-month pregnant Kallu Bai was rushed from Rajupura village to Bhopal following labour pain.

"When we came to the Bhopal District Hospital, the on duty nursing staff, instead of attending to my daughter-in-law, demanded ₹5,000 as bribe from us before starting the treatment. When we told them that we could not afford to pay the demanded sum because we are very poor, the nursing staff forced my daughter-in-law and all of us out of the hospital, asking us to get her ultrasound examination done from some other place," the ill-fated woman's mother-in-law Mithilesh Mirdha alleged.

"On being forced out of the hospital, my daughter-in-law slumped on the road and delivered the baby there itself. We did not even have clean clothes for the delivery, owing to which we used my son's towel for covering the newborn, who died for the want of proper medical care," Mithilesh alleged.

The on-duty nursing staff at Bhopal District Hospital, however, denied the Mirdha family's allegations. The nursing staff claimed instead that the family had left the hospital on their own. They also claimed that six-month-old premature babies do not survive.

Taking cognizance of the matter, the Bhopal District Hospital administration has formed a panel of three doctors to conduct an inquiry into the episode. According to Bhopal District Hospital civil surgeon Dr Anil Goyal, "The incident happened late on Tuesday night, the foetus had died inside the womb only. The patient's kin were informed about it by the on duty staff, but unsatisfied with what they said, the kin left the hospital. No one turned them away from the hospital. A panel of three doctors has been formed to enquire the entire episode. Based on the probe panel's findings, action will be initiated against anyone who is found guilty in the matter."

Hooch claims five more lives in dry Bihar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Patna

YET another hooch tragedy has claimed five lives and left three others critically ill in Bihar's Buxar district. The three have been admitted to a private hospital. Bihar is a dry state where sale and consumption of alcohol is prohibited.

The incident took place at Amsari village under Murar police station area late on Wednesday night after a party hosted by a group of eight local residents celebrating Republic Day. They bought liquor from a local supplier.

The victims returned home around midnight. Soon, one of them identified as Anand alias Anandi Kumar (20) complained of stomach pain, headache and started vomiting. He was rushed to a government hospital at Dumraon where he was declared dead. Rinku Singh (35), Dinu Singh (48), Shiv Mohan Yadav (45) and Sukhu Musahar (55) met the same fate later. Banti Singh, Munna and Sanjay were struggling for life at a private hospital in Buxar.

Wednesday's tragic incident follows similar incidents in Saran and Nalanda districts earlier this month. Five persons died in Saran and 14 lost their lives in Nalanda.

LEFT wing student organisations have called for a Bihar bandh on Friday against police brutality and arrests in various parts of the state during their agitation over alleged irregularities in the Railway Recruitment Board's Non Technical Popular Categories (NTPC) examination.

The dawn-to-dusk bandh called by All India Students Association (AISA) and other Leftist outfits has been supported by grand alliance (GA) partners in the state, including Rashtriya Janata Dal, Congress and three Left parties, who decried the police action against job aspirants across the state in the last three days.

So far, 75 students have been detained across the state — 32 in Nawada, 22 in Jehanabad 13 in Sitamarhi and eight in Gaya. Earlier, eight protesters were arrested in Patna after they vandalised the Rajendra Nagar railway terminus and attempted to disrupt train movement on Monday.

Former minister Jagadanand Singh said the RJD would support the bandh called by the student organisations against the high handedness of the railway recruitment board. "It shows insensitivity of governments in the state and at the Centre. Prima facie, the demands of the job aspirants appear to be genuine."

Functionaries of the GA revealed that around 1.25 crore candidates had applied to appear in the examinations that had advertised over 35,281 posts from levels 2 to 6. The results of the first level were declared on January 15, which enraged the candidates.

In a related development, an FIR was lodged against a private coaching centre owner called Khan Sir and his five colleagues, 16 students and 300-400 unidentified persons at a police station in Patna for inciting protesters to vandalise railway property. The FIR was lodged on the statement of four students, who were taken into custody while protesting at Rajendra Nagar on January 24.

Railways estimates loss of ₹18 cr due to protests

The Indian Railways estimates that it has suffered losses to the tune of ₹18 crore in Bihar and Uttar Pradesh during the violent agitations by students in the last three days, alleging irregularities in results of the first stage of examination conducted for various posts under the Non Technical Popular Categories. A train was torched in Gaya.

Jayant Chaudhary rebuffs BJP's overture of reaching out to Jats

Lucknow: RLD chief Jayant Choudhary rebuffed BJP's overture to consolidate the crucial Jat vote of western Uttar Pradesh. This was after Union Home Minister Amit Shah met Parvesh Verma at his home on Wednesday for a strategy session ahead of the February 10 elections in the region. "The invitation is not for me, give it to those 700 farmer families whose houses you have destroyed!" the RLD chief tweeted in Hindi referring to the farmers who died during their over a year long protest against farm laws. Chaudhary has joined hands with SP chief Akhilesh Yadav to contest in Uttar Pradesh.

Utpal Parrikar files papers to contest as Independent

Mumbai: Former Goa CM Manohar Parrikar's son Utpal Parrikar on Thursday filed his nomination as an Independent candidate from the Panaji constituency. Utpal had exited from the BJP after the party overlooked his claims handed and instead gave the ticket to Atanasio "Babush" Monserrate. Though the BJP leadership had sought to placate him, Utpal took the electoral plunge by filing his nomination. "I have filed my nomination as an independent candidate and I am confident that the people of Panjim will give me their support through votes," Utpal told the media after he filed his papers.

No clean chit to Channi in illegal mining case: Sidhu

Says party with a clear roadmap for Punjab will get the mandate

THE ED raids and allegations against Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi of involvement in illegal sand mining have come after the announcement of Assembly elections and are nothing but political vendetta, Congress state president Navjot Singh Sidhu told Harpreet Bajwa in an interview. Excerpts:

What are the chances of Congress returning to power? How many seats do you give to your party?

The Congress will win at least 70 seats in the 117-member Assembly in the coming elections if a clear agenda for the state is incorporated in the manifesto. There is an election on every seat and when we fight 117 elections, there are challenges on each seat.

As of now, it seems no political party will be able to get a clear mandate. Just wait for ten days. The people of the state will give a clear mandate to the party which gives a clear roadmap. They will not waste their votes on spent cartridges like Captain Amarinder Singh and others.

What are your comments on ED raids in connection with sand mining at various places, including CM Channi's nephew's premises? The ED took action after nearly four years of the registration of the case. Were they sleeping for four years? When the assembly elections were announced, then the raids were conducted.

CM Channi is alleged to be involved in sand mining, but there is no condemnation from your side. Are you giving a clean chit to him by questioning the timing of the ED raids? I am not giving any clean chit. Let the law take its course. If you can prove a link, then I will be the first one to criticise. But if you are indulging in political vendetta, then I am not with you. I know the ED, the CBI and other agencies have been used politically... Today it is clear that it is political vendetta.

Your opponents say you are terming ED raids as vendetta but justifying the case registered against SAD leader Bikramjit Singh Majithia under NDPS Act. The SAD is accusing you of political vendetta. It is absolutely trash. It is a 2018 case. The ED had started the investigations against Majithia... The ED and Special task Force reports were submitted in the Punjab and Haryana High Court. Amarinder Singh was protecting him.

You have been asking the party to declare a CM face. Do you think you should be named CM candidate? I am not here for any post. My only aspiration is to implement the 'Punjab model'. If a roadmap to resurrect Punjab is there, I am there. Yes, if a post allows me to take decisions and the high command empowers me, I will do justice to that post, be it a minister, PPCC chief or anything.

There has been infighting in your party. How will you control it? Which party doesn't have infighting? AAP leaders are also fighting among themselves.

Many of your party leaders including a few ministers have objected to your style of functioning. With my style of functioning, I became the PPCC president and before that a Member of Parliament several times.

The BJP tried to change the narrative of these elections by raring the issue of PM security lapse. What narrative! There were 700 people and 70,000 empty chairs. People understand everything.

Is the Punjab model you are advocating is yours or that of the party? Will it see the light of the day?

I will meet Congress leader and manifesto committee chairman Partap Singh Bajwa regarding the poll manifesto and it will be released in the coming days.

VOTE FOR SP MEANS RETURN TO LAWLESSNESS, SAYS SHAH

NAMITA BAIJPAI @ Lucknow

IN western Uttar Pradesh, Union Minister Amit Shah cautioned the electorate against voting for the Samajwadi Party saying it would mean return of the anarchy and lawlessness in the state.

Leading his party's door-to-door campaign from the front in Mathura on Thursday, Shah began his tour with a visit to Bankey Bihari temple on Thursday morning. He was accompanied by Shri Kant Sharma and Chaudhury Lakshmi Narayan, both ministers in Yogi cabinet and party candidates from Mathura and Chhata.

Mathura, which has five segments, will vote in the first phase on February 10.

In the past, Congress candidate Pradeep Mathur had won four times from Mathura in 1985, 2002, 2007 and 2012 but lost to Sharma by a margin of over one lakh in 2017.

Mathura, along with Ayodhya and Kashi, is among the three most prominent religious cities in Uttar Pradesh and the leaders of saffron brigade have been pitching in with the issue of Krishna Janmabhoomi often. Shah also held a meeting of intellectuals in Mathura.

Firing a salvo at the Samajwadi Party, which has emerged as the main contender to the BJP, Shah said

SP chief Akhilesh Yadav should be ashamed of the law and order situation during his rule. "The political high-handedness was at its peak then. It is reflected in the cases against Azam Khan. He was arrested... and there were so many charges against him that the sections of CrPC fell short," said Shah.

"There was a time when even the police used to fear the gangsters and criminals owing to their closeness to the power corridors, women and young girls feared venturing out. But that has changed now. The gangsters and criminals are seen with a 'patta' (collar) around their necks to surrender voluntarily."

Ex-PCC chief in BJP, two saffron MLAs resign

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Dehradun

BJP MLAs Rajkumar Kumar Thukral and Dhan Singh Negi resigned from the assembly membership and the party on Thursday while former Congress state chief Kishore Upadhyay joined the BJP.

Defections and infighting in both the BJP and the Congress have gathered pace as ticket distribution for the February 14 Uttarakhand election nears conclusion.

While Negi, the Tehri MLA, joined the Congress, Thukral, the Rudrapur MLA, is exploring his options. "Workers are not valued anymore in the BJP. Those who were in another party are being given preference over dedicated party workers. I decided to leave the BJP due to same reason," said Negi.

The BJP is likely to field Upadhyay who was recently expelled from the Congress.

Ticket distribution is causing heartburn in both the ruling and the opposition party. The Congress had to change seats of five candidates including Harish Rawat. The veteran will now contest from Lalkuan instead of Ramnagar.

Akhilesh rewards BJP turncoats with tickets

LUCKNOW: Former BJP minister Dara Singh Chauhan, senior BSP leaders Lalji Verma, Ram Achal Rajbhar, Rakesh Pandey and Vinay Shankar Tiwari were among the heavyweight turncoats to get ticket in the Samajwadi Party's third list of 56 candidates on Thursday.

While BSP turncoats Lalji Verma, Ram Achal Rajbhar, Rakesh Pandey and Vinay Shankar Tiwari were fielded from their traditional seats Katheri, Akbarpur, Jalapur and Chhapra, Chauhan was shifted to Ghosi, the seat of mafia don-turned-politician Mukhtar Ansari.

Chauhan, who won in 2017 from Madhubani in Mau district on a BJP ticket, was seeking to change his seat owing to alleged anti-incumbency. Notably, Mukhtar's brother Sigbatullah Ansari had also joined the SP last year.

Kajal Nishad, a Bhjopuri actress and Congress turncoat, was fielded from Campiyerganj in Gorakhpur.

Moreover, the list is dominated by non-Yadav OBCs who make the major bloc of 15 followed by 10 Muslims, 10 SC, eight Yadavs, five woman and eight others.

Notably, the party announced the names of its veteran leaders like former speaker Mata Prasad Pandey from his traditional Itwa seat and Leader of Opposition Ram Govind Chaudhury from Bansdih.

Rakesh Verma, son of late Beni Prasad Verma, was fielded from Kursi. The party reposed faith in a number of sitting MLAs like Arvind Singh Gope and repeated ticket to five of the six sitting MLAs from Azamgarh district declared so far.

Significantly, the party has announced candidates in four of the five Assembly segments of Gorakhpur, the stronghold of UP CM Yogi Adityanath. However, it has yet to announce the contender against Yogi.

Former Assembly speaker late Sukhdeo Rajbhar's son Ramakant Rajbhar was fielded from his father's stronghold Didarganj. ENS

Five Cong MPs skip Rahul's event at Golden Temple

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

ON a day Rahul Gandhi launched the Congress campaign in Punjab, five party MPs were conspicuous by their absence at the Golden Temple event, with one saying they were not invited to the event.

Congress MPs Ravneet Bittu, Mohd Sadiq, Preneet Kaur,

Manish Tewari and Jasbir Singh Dimpa were not present at the event leading to speculation that they are being upset over ticket distribution and other issues.

Dimpa is upset as he was denied ticket from Khadoor Sahib. His close aide also joined the Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) after being denied ticket. Dim-pa said that there was no invitation for MPs to attend the event and he thought that it was for the 117 candidates.

"I thought they wanted to invite only 117 Assembly candidates. I did not get any invite from the CM, AICC in-charge or the PCC," he added.

Kaur, wife of Amarinder Singh, has been keeping away from the party ever since her husband parted ways with the party. Tewari, who has been attacking Punjab Chief Minister Charanjit Singh Channi, was reportedly travelling to his constituency and could not attend the event.

Sadiq said he was not able to go to Golden Temple as his sister-in-law had passed away.

Assam CM's convoy will not halt ambulances

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

THE Assam Cabinet on Thursday decided that the Chief Minister's convoy in Guwahati will be limited to six cars and 12 in other areas and districts, excluding escort and pilot.

It also decided that the movement of ambulances will get precedence over the CM's convoy and will not be stopped.

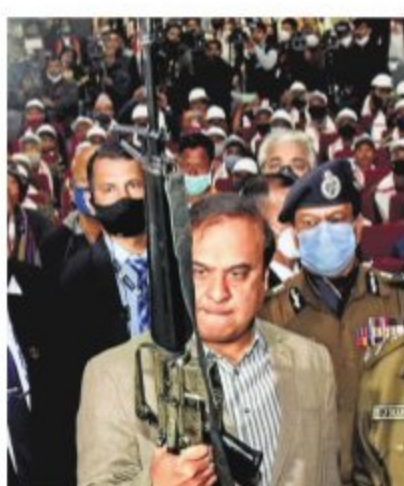

According to the decisions, traffic will not be disrupted beforehand during the CM's road travel. If required, it may be paused for a period not exceeding two minutes. "To end public inconvenience, we decided at the Assam Cabinet to reduce CM carcade size and stop halting traffic for long during CM's travel," Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma tweeted.

At a recent conference of superintendents of police, Sarma had asserted that he would feel privileged if he could visit a place in a district without security and interact with people or go out on a morning walk with them. "But if I am surrounded by commandos, it is a gentle reminder that the law and order situation in the district is not good."

Just days later, Sarma had stirred a hornet's nest by publicly scolding the Nagaon district magistrate for allegedly halting traffic on a highway for the CM's convoy to pass.

Meanwhile, the cabinet also decided that the practice of felicitations and offer of gifts to the CM, ministers, and senior officials during any official function would be discontinued. However, visiting dignitaries would be provided with proper courtesy. It also decided that the state election commission will conduct municipal elections before March 10.

Scribe killed in UP road rage, trio held

NAMITA BAIJPAI @ Lucknow

A local journalist was beaten to death by three youths on Wednesday evening in a case of road rage in Saharanpur.

The district police arrested all three accused in connection with the case. While two were held early in the morning, the third was arrested in the evening.

Taking cognizance of the issue, the Uttar Pradesh government sought a report from the Saharanpur district administration and directed to invoke the National Security Act against all the three accused.

According to the police sources, the journalist, Sudhir Saini, worked for a daily newspaper published from Muzaffarnagar. While going on a bike in village Dauli Ranghad, he tried to overtake a car in which the three persons were seated. This enraged the trio who stopped Saini and thrashed him so badly that he sustained severe injuries and later succumbed. The men fled the spot dumping Saini's body in a ditch.

On getting the information, the police reached the spot and arrested two accused on the basis of the car number given by the villagers. "The victim, a resident of Chilkana, was coming towards Saharanpur on his motorcycle and overtook a car in which three persons were seated. They picked up a fight over overtaking. The victim was thrashed by the three men, causing serious injury. The victim was rushed to a hospital where he succumbed to his injuries," Saharanpur SSP Rajesh Kumar said.

A case was registered under relevant sections of the IPC in the Sikri police station of Saharanpur.

City Lions Club feeds 2 lakh in a year of new initiative

The Lions Club of Gauhati's unique project "Lions Ahaar - Meals on Wheels" completed 365 days on January 24. During the period, wholesome meals were distributed to 2.25 lakh people free of cost. The club said it was a wonderful journey with support from members, donors, other organisations, individuals and well wishers. "We've been able to serve 2,25,000 people over this period and it is a very satisfying achievement. We celebrated the first anniversary of the service by arranging lunch at the Dr B Barooah Cancer Institute on January 24," the club said in a statement. The service had immensely benefited Covid patients in home isolation as well as their family members. Lions is the world's largest service club organisation with 1.35 million members in over 206 countries.

IIT-developed drone at Republic Day event

The Republic Day event in Kamrup was marked by a drone show, the first of its kind in the Northeast. The drones, developed by the IIT-Guwahati start-up 'Drones Tech Lab', are providing solutions in several domains including disaster management, agriculture, survey and mapping. "Over the years, these drones have been notable for being instrumental in handling some major challenges in the Northeast and eastern parts of India. Majuli has the issue of incessant flooding, which not only leads to loss of lives and property but also erodes a significant part of the island.

Police launch 24x7 info, distress helpline

Guwahati Police has launched a 24x7 information & distress support line for the citizens of the city. People can share any credible information on illegal activities with the police and reach out to the cops for help if in distress. The police shared two helpline numbers. The Assam Police under the Himanta Biswa Sarma government has launched a war against drugs. Talking about the initiative, Police Commissioner Harmeet Singh said, "Our drug infoline generated good leads. We wanted to expand the horizon and apply the learnings from there to provide easier access to the citizens, so that they are able to reach out to us in need through these numbers for support."

THE ONLY CONSTANT IN THE TECHNOLOGY INDUSTRY IS CHANGE - MARC BENIOFF

Markets correct on hawkish Fed, expiry blues

Mid-cap and small-cap indices also plunge; analysts expect bounce after Union Budget

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

BENCHMARK indices fell in line with Asian peers Thursday but ended well above their intraday lows in the run up to the Union Budget on February 1 as European markets pared their opening losses.

The Nifty ended down almost a percent at 17110.15, ending 240 points off the day's low. The Sensex ended 838 points off its intraday low to close down a percent at 57276.94.

The indices, in line with Hang Seng and Nikkei, declined after perceived hawkish comments by the Fed chair to tame runaway inflation and fears that these could result in outflows from EMs.

Market volatility also increased as Thursday marked the monthly derivatives expiry when traders close out or carry forward their bets to the next monthly series.

Fear gauge India Vix ended marginally lower by 1.36% at 21.07. A reading above 18-20 reflects heightened perception of risk among traders.

Retail investors also bore the brunt with mid-cap and small-cap indices declining by around a percent each.

SENSEX ON JAN 27

The fall from last Tuesday's high of 18350.95 was led by relentless selling of foreign portfolio investors, who have sold shares worth ₹22,722 crore, over $3 bn, in the month through January 25.

Market analysts believe a bounce could be due after the steep fall since last Tuesday amid the imminent Union Budget.

"A bounce could be in the offing, though it's tough to take a call on a daily basis, given the heightened volatility," said SK Joshi, director, Khambatta Securities.

The top Nifty gainers included Axis Bank, SBI, Maruti, Cipla and Kotak Bank, up between 2% and 3%. The top losers were HCL Technologies, Tech Mahindra, Dr Reddys Lab, TCS and Wipro which shed 3-4%.

Sale in insurance biz to help Future repay debt

RAM SAHGAH @ Mumbai

THE debt-ridden Future Group's stake sale in its general insurance business to joint venture partner Generali will help it meet the first tranche of payment to lenders under the one-time restructuring (OTR) offered by them to Covid-affected businesses.

The group, which opted for the OTR last year, will receive ₹1,252.96 crore from Future Enterprises (FEL) 25% stake sale to Generali in Future Generali India Insurance Company Limited (FGIICL). It will also receive an additional consideration linked to the date of the closing of the transaction.

"...it (the Generali deal) will help us pay the first tranche of debt as per the OTR scheme of the banks," a person from Future Group told ENS. "The deadline of the payment is March end."

Under the restructuring pact, it will have to pay around ₹2,200 cr to lenders by March end, said the person.

The group owes over ₹12,000 crore to its lenders, which it hoped to meet via the sale of its retail assets to Reliance Industries for a consideration of ₹24,713 crore. However, the sale was stopped after Amazon, which holds stake indirectly in Future Retail, sought arbitration against the deal on grounds of violation of contractual non-compete agreements.

Future Enterprises (FEL) on Thursday said it had agreed to sell a 25% stake in its general insurance joint venture to joint venture partner Generali Participations Netherlands (Generali), for a cash consideration of ₹1,252.96 crore, plus an additional consideration that is linked to the date of the closing of the transaction.

Generali has also acquired an option to buy out the company's remaining interest in FGIICL, directly or through a nominee, at an agreed valuation subject to applicable regulatory approvals.

After the transaction, Generali will hold 74% in the insurance JV.

"The transaction is subject to applicable regulatory approvals and other customary conditions," Future Enterprises said in a statement.

Generali had earlier received approval from the Competition Commission of India to purchase 16% stake held by Industrial Investment Trust Limited in the Life Insurance Joint Venture, Future Generali India Life Insurance Company Limited (FGIICL).

It has also agreed to invest up to ₹330 crore in tranches in FGIICL to fund its growth plans.

Pursuant to these transactions, Generali will acquire a majority stake and control in both insurance joint ventures.

boAt owner seeks nod to raise ₹2,000 cr through IPO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IMAGINE Marketing, the owner of consumer electronics brand boAt, has sought markets regulator SEBI's nod to raise ₹2,000 crore through an initial public offering (IPO).

The IPO will consist of fresh issue of shares worth ₹900 crore, and offer for sale of upto ₹1,100 crore of existing shares, according to the draft red herring prospectus (DRHP) filed by the company.

boAt co-founders Aman Gupta and Sameer Mehta will dilute their stakes worth ₹150 crore each in the company, the document said, adding, boAt investor South Lake Investment Ltd will also sell shares worth ₹800 crore, according to the document.

The company will use proceeds from the fresh issue towards payment of debt.

The company may also consider participation by anchor investors, in accordance with SEBI regulations, it said in the filing documents.

Shareholders may consider further issue of specified securities through a private placement, preferential offer, or any other method of up to ₹180 crore, at its discretion, prior to filing of the Red Herring Prospectus with the registrar of companies, as a pre-IPO placement, it said.

boAt, founded in 2016, was backed by US-based private equity firm Warburg Pincus. The company is expected to be valued at $1.5-2 billion in the IPO float.

QUARTERLY RESULTS

CANARA BANK NET DOUBLES TO ₹1,502 CR

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

CANARA Bank on Thursday posted a 116% increase in its standalone net profit at ₹1,502 crore for the third quarter ended December 31, 2021. Beating street estimates, the public sector bank's net profit more than doubled on the back of lower provisioning. The bank had posted ₹686 crore net profit in the year-ago period.

The bank's net interest income increased 14% Y-o-Y at ₹6,945 crore as against ₹6,086 crore in the year-ago period. Its other income (non-interest income) was down 13% at ₹3,612 crore compared to ₹4,153 crore in the same quarter last year.

The Bengaluru-headquartered bank's Gross Non-Performing Assets (GNPA) ratio reduced to 7.80% in the third quarter, down from 8.42% in the preceding quarter. Also, the bank's Net Non-Performing Assets (NNPA) ratio reduced to 2.86% in the third quarter down from 3.21% in the preceding quarter.

The Provision Coverage Ratio (PCR) stood at 83.26% in the December quarter against 82.44% in the September quarter.

Its global business was up by 8.06% Y-o-Y to ₹17,72,856 crore in the third quarter with global deposits at ₹10, 43,350 crore (7.23% Y-o-Y) and global advances were up about 9.28% Y-o-Y to ₹7,29,506 crore.

Domestic deposit of the bank witnessed 6.50% growth Y-o-Y at ₹9,88,659 cr. As on Dec 31, 2021, the bank has 9,773 branches, along with 10,832 ATMs and 1,389 recyclers.

PNB posts 123% increase in net profit

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

PUNJAB National Bank (PNB) posted a 123% year-on-year (yoy) increase in net profit at ₹1,127 crore in the third quarter of the current financial year (2021-22) largely on lower provisions.

The government-owned bank's total income during the quarter was ₹22,026 crore lower than ₹23,042 crore during the same quarter previous year. On a q-o-q basis, however, revenues grew 3.76%.

Operating Profit increased by 26.24% on Q-o-Q basis to ₹5,076 crore in the third quarter compared to ₹4,021 crore in the Q2. Net Interest Income (NII) increased by 22.8% on Q-o-Q basis to ₹7,803 crore, while Net Interest Margin (NIM) improved by 54 bps to 2.93% during the quarter. Gross NPA ratio of the bank improved by 75 bps to 12.88% in the December quarter from 13.63% in September quarter.

LIC Housing Fin profit up 6% to ₹767 cr

MORTGAGE lender LIC Housing Finance (LICHFL) on Thursday reported a 6% increase in profit after tax at ₹767.33 crore for the quarter ended December 2021, aided by higher collections and drop in provisions.

It had reported a profit after tax of ₹727.04 crore in the same period of the previous fiscal. "The income levels were more or less maintained. Our collections were good during the three months of the quarter. Recovery also picked up across all the regions.

"Even the provisions were less in the quarter because of the provisions we had made earlier," the company's Managing Director and CEO Y Viswanatha Gowd said.

The lender reported better growth in the quarter due to higher disbursements during the festive season.

Gowd also said with easing of the pandemic, growth and asset quality metrics are expected to improve.

Provisions during the quarter stood at ₹355 crore as against ₹665 crore made in the second quarter of this fiscal. Net interest income (NII) grew 14% to ₹1,455 crore, as against ₹1,281 crore for the same period in the previous year. PTI

LIC to list on bourses by March 31: DIPAM Secy

New Delhi: The government will list the country's largest insurer LIC on the stock exchanges by March-end, a top official said on Thursday.

The draft papers for LIC's initial public offering (IPO) is being finalised and will be filed with market regulator Sebi soon for its approval. "LIC disinvestment amount will be included in this year's (Budget) because we aim to list it before March 31," Department of Investment and Public Asset Management (DIPAM) Secretary Tuhin Kanta Pandey told PTI. The Budget for 2021-22 has set a disinvestment target of ₹1.75 lakh crore, as against ₹32,835 crore garnered in the last fiscal.

POWER and renewable energy minister RK Singh on Thursday batted for pre-paid smart metering installation in the country as it will ensure improvement in billing collection. The minister while addressing the CII Conference on Smart Metering also said that politicisation of the electricity is going to be disastrous for the power sector.

"The pre-paid smart meters will give great advantage to the poor people. At the current structure if you don't pay the bill, your electricity will get disconnected. To restore it, you have to apply for a fresh connection, which includes paper work and installation charges. Therefore, many from the rural belt avoid getting fresh connections and stay without electricity. If they have pre-paid meters, they can recharge it whenever they have money," said Singh.

The minister said in the rural belt, the customers don't get bills every month but after four months, that too inflated one. Therefore, people with low income can't pay it on time, thus disconnections happen. "Only solution to this problem is technology. All the discoms should switch over to technology and go for prepaid meters," suggested Singh.

The minister also said the government will unveil green hydrogen policy in the next 10 days. The policy is expected to have incentives like free transmission for 25 years to boost production of this clean source of energy.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TELECOM Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) on Thursday directed the telecom operators to provide at least one plan voucher, one special tariff voucher and one combo voucher, having a validity of 30 days.

The regulator body said it has amended the telecommunication order of 1999, after it had received references from consumers expressing concern regarding telecom operators offering tariff plans of 28 days' validity rather than 30 days or a month.

"Every telecom service provider shall offer at least one plan voucher, one special tariff voucher and one combo voucher having a validity of thirty days," reads the new clause.

"With the enactment of the amendment, telecom consumers will have more options to choose service offerings of appropriate validity and duration. This would also facilitate consumers in making a more informed tariff-related choice," said TRAI in a statement.

The regulatory body said it received a number of references from consumers regarding tariff offerings of TSPs that are valid for 28 days, and cannot be perceived as monthly tariff offerings. Consumers have stated they need to make 13 recharges in a year, given that the validity period is 28 days, rather than a calendar month. Thus, TRAI had floated a consultation paper in May last year in which it asked all stakeholders whether it should intervene in the matter. "After considering the views of all stakeholders... the authority has decided to insert sub-clauses in its order," TRAI said.

BharatPe eyes transaction value at $30 bn by March '23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FINTECH firm BharatPe targets to reach $30 billion TPV (Transaction Processed Value) on payments through both QR and Swipe by March 2023.

It has witnessed 200% growth in the annualised transaction value from its Point of Sale (POS) business, over the last 12 months. It has ramped up the reach of its BharatSwipe by 25X to over 250 cities. The company on Thursday announced that it has deployed more than 1.25 lakh BharatSwipe machines across offline shops. BharatSwipe contributes about 25% to the overall payments TPV of the company.

The fintech firm attributed this growth to the expansion of the company's POS business in non-metro cities, with more than 50% of BharatSwipe machines being deployed in tier-2/tier-3 towns since 2021.

Srinivas' suggestions big worry for IOA

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

"THE Indian Olympic Association should not cherry pick between the National Sports Development Code of India and the International Olympic Committee Charter as per convenience," says former sports secretary Injeti Srinivas under the observation column. He had prepared a detailed list of all the 13 objections raised by Rahul Mehra, senior lawyer who specialises in sports against the IOA constitution. Going by the suggestions of Srinivas, the IOA seems to be in trouble. He had extensively quoted from the IOC Charter and as one of the top ministry officials involved in remodelling the NSDCI, he cited provisions of the code from 1975 to 2010.

Two separate affidavits

The way the IOA tops officials act seems ridiculous. During the Annual General Meeting overseen by retired judge Rajiv Sahai Endlaw and assisted by Injeti Srinivas, former secretary of the sports ministry, the IOA formed a six-member committee to align the constitution "in consonance with the National Sports Development Code of India 2011". The members are IOA president Narinder Batra, secretary general Rajeev Mehta, treasurer Anandeshwar Pandey, two senior vice-presidents Anil Khanna and RK Anand and Lalit Bhanot, the chairman of IOA preparations committee. The committee was supposed to give a presentation to Srinivas before bringing it back to the house for approval. However, the two factions of the IOA submitted separate applications in the court. The observation terms Batra, Anand and Bhanot as Faction 1 while faction 2 includes Mehta, Khanna and Pandey.

Restrictive clause

Srinivas' observations are based on law of the land based on court orders too. The restrictive clause, one of the major contentious issues, would not be convenient for both parties. According to IOA constitution, to contest for the post of president, secretary and treasurer, one has to be a member of the previous five executive council members. Batra and Mehta have given different views on the application. Mehta wants the clause to be removed while Batra has maintained its necessity. Srinivas, however, is quite clear. According to him as per the model election guidelines stipulated by the NSDCI, the nomination of a candidate for election shall be from the names included in the electoral college.

No decision on Ranji yet, BCCI exploring options

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

A meeting of the BCCI top brass held on Thursday ended without any decision apropos resuming the domestic season, which was suspended on January 4 in the wake of the third Covid wave. With several states reopening schools on February 1 and Covid case load on the decline in prominent cities, the BCCI will hold another meeting on Monday to take a fresh stock of the situation and explore the possibilities to host all the tournaments, including Ranji Trophy.

The meeting on Thursday was held specifically with regards to hosting the Ranji Trophy after several state associations urged the BCCI to hold the premier domestic tournament. Ever since this newspaper reported BCCI's intentions to not host the Ranji Trophy last week citing a short window available, several state units have been in touch with board officials, pressurising them to conduct the event.

All these units have pointed out that not hosting the Ranji Trophy for a second successive season will have an adverse effect not only on the cricketing front, but will also affect hundreds of players, umpires, match officials and their families which are dependent on it financially. More over, several players across the country have been urging the board to look at ways to host the red-ball tournament.

During the meeting on Thursday, it is understood that the board has decided to explore the possibilities of resuming the season. While the chances of Vinoo Mankad and senior Women's T20 are high, it is not certain with regards to the Ranji Trophy. According to an official in the know, the BCCI is likely to have discussions with the state units in the coming days and present a couple of options. What is adding to the issue is the uncertainty surrounding where the IPL will be held. Even if it is home or away, the franchises are looking to start their camps by March 10, meaning the window is shorter.

Hosting the tournament over two legs with the IPL sandwiched in between is one option with knockouts being played in June-July. The other is for the BCCI to go ahead with the Ranji Trophy simultaneously along the IPL. While teams like Mumbai, Tamil Nadu, Karnataka, Delhi etc would lose several players to IPL, at least half of the 38 sides will not suffer on this front. The BCCI feels state units will not agree to this. Moreover, this will lead to top players in the country missing out on red-ball cricket for a second successive season.

Everest Premier League to IPL: Dorji's story

ASHIM SUNAM @Bengaluru

NESTLED at the foothills of the Himalayas, Bhutan is taking baby steps in cricket. In a country, where archery is the national sport and football oozes in popularity, the gentleman's game is one of the growing sports. There has been an increase in the participation of players across various levels, and the likes of Bhutanese all-rounder Mikyo Dorji is trying to put his country's name on the global map.

Last year, the 22-year-old became the first player from the Land of the Thunder Dragon to play in a franchise-based league outside the country. He represented Lalitpur Patriots in the Everest Premier League in Nepal.

Now, he is also one of the 318 overseas players, who has registered for the Indian Premier League auction, scheduled for next month. Dorji, who made his debut in 2018 against Malaysia, understands the magnitude of the cash-rich league and where he stands.

COLLINS-BARTY IN OPEN FINAL

AFP @Melbourne

A ruthless Ashleigh Barty swept into her first Australian Open final on Thursday with a clinical, straight-sets demolition of Madison Keys to set-up a title match with the hard-hitting Danielle Collins.

The world No 1 overwhelmed 51st-ranked Keys 6-1, 6-3 in just 62 minutes with another American awaiting after the all-business Collins crushed Polish seventh seed Iga Swiatek 6-4, 6-1.

Barty is the first Australian woman into the decider of her home Grand Slam since Wendy Turnbull in 1980 and is aiming to become the first winner since Chris O'Neil two years earlier.

But the tenacious Collins stands in her way on Saturday with the 28-year-old enjoying a second coming after surgery last year for endometriosis left her pain free. Nine months on and she has 32-7 win-loss record, capturing her maiden WTA singles titles last year in Palermo then San Jose. After making the semifinals at Melbourne in 2019, she is now in a first Slam final and will break into the top 10 for the first time to cap a remarkable comeback.

Barty, though, has been rampant so far, dropping serve just once through six matches and is yet to drop a set as she powered through the top half of the women's draw.

Collins also flew out of the blocks against Swiatek, racing to a 4-0 first set lead. A nervous Swiatek double faulted in the opening game to gift Collins an early break and the unrelenting American's fierce groundstrokes earned her another. Collins was on a mission and quickly broke to take charge of the second set as she jumped on Swiatek's second serve, breaking again to race 3-0 clear and it was all over for the 20-year-old.

Excited to get on board: Walker

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

With Worlds, Commonwealth Games and the Asian Games in many disciplines, 2022 is going to be another intense slog for athletes in many sports. That is doubly true in a sport like squash, a sport not at the Olympics. For the likes of Sourav Ghosal and Joshna Chinappa, 2022 is a big year with three elite events lined up including the World Doubles. To try and maximise opportunities, they will finally get to work with foreign coach, Chris Walker, who is based out of New York. In an interview with this daily, Walker spoke about his aspirations for the next 5-6 months or so.

Russia open to talks despite US rejection of demands

Kremlin says there is 'little ground for optimism', but prospects for continuing dialogue on Ukraine are in interests of both Russia and US

MOSCOW

THE US rejection of Russia's main demands to resolve the crisis over Ukraine leaves little ground for optimism, the Kremlin spokesman said on Thursday, while adding that dialogue was still possible.

Tensions have soared in recent weeks, as the United States and its NATO allies expressed fear that a buildup of about 1,00,000 Russian troops near Ukraine signaled Moscow planned to invade its ex-Soviet neighbour. Russia denies having any such designs, and has laid out a series of demands it says will improve security in Europe.

But as expected, the US and the Western alliance firmly rejected any concessions on Moscow's main points on Wednesday, refusing to permanently ban Ukraine from joining NATO and saying allied deployments of troops in Eastern Europe are nonnegotiable.

The US did outline areas in which some of Russia's concerns might be addressed, possibly offering a path to de-escalation. "There is no change, there will be no change," US Secretary of State Antony Blinken said, repeating the warning that any Russian incursion into Ukraine would be met with massive consequences and severe economic costs.

All eyes are now on how Russia will respond amid fears that Europe could again be plunged into war. That decision that rests squarely with President Vladimir Putin.

Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters that the response from the US — and a similar one from NATO — leaves "little ground for optimism". At the same time, he added that "there always are prospects for continuing a dialogue, it's in the interests of both us and the Americans".

Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov noted that the US response contains some elements that could lead to "the start of a serious talk on secondary issues" but emphasised that "the document contains no positive response on the main issue," the Russian demands for the non-expansion of NATO and the non-deployment of weapons that may threaten Russia.

Lavrov told reporters that top officials will now submit their proposals to Putin, who has the American response, and Peskov said the Russian reaction would come soon. AP

WHERE THEY STAND ON UKRAINE

The US and NATO have made no concessions to the main Russian demands to resolve the crisis over Ukraine, including giving Moscow a guarantee that Ukraine can never join the Western alliance. The focus is now on how Russia will respond — a decision that rests squarely with President Vladimir Putin and one that could determine whether Europe will again be plunged into war. Here are some countries' stands so far with regard to the Ukraine crisis. AP

RUSSIA HOPES FOR POLITICAL CHANGE IN KYIV

A top Putin associate, former President and ex-PM Dmitry Medvedev, says a war would be catastrophic and that he hopes that Ukraine will choose leaders who want 'normal' ties with Russia. Medvedev, a deputy head of Russia's Security Council, said a Russia-NATO conflict "would be simply catastrophic". He argued that Moscow sees no point in talking to Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky, but voiced hope that the Ukrainians would eventually become "weary of that bedlam and elect the leadership that would pursue policies ... aimed at normal economic relations with Russia". Medvedev's comment follows a British claim that the Kremlin is seeking to replace Ukraine's government with a pro-Moscow administration — an allegation Russia denies.

GERMANY OFFERS ECONOMIC HELP TO UKRAINE

German Foreign Minister Annalena Baerbock said her government is coordinating its policy on the situation in Ukraine with allies, and the options Berlin will consider in the event of renewed Russian aggression includes action against the Nord Stream 2 gas pipeline. The pipeline, which hasn't begun operation yet, was built to pump natural gas from Russia to Germany. Baerbock said on Thursday during a parliamentary debate on Ukraine that while Germany has refused to supply lethal weapons to Ukraine, it will continue to provide economic support to Kyiv. "A (soccer) team doesn't need 11 center forwards who all do the same thing, but 11 players who get along well and have a common game plan in mind," she said. She also stressed the importance of renewed talks held in recent weeks with Russia, Ukraine and NATO allies. "Those who talk don't shoot," she said.

FRANCE'S MACRON TAKES OWN PATH

French President Emmanuel Macron is convinced that diplomacy can still avert conflict, and is preparing to talk on Friday with Putin. Macron's presidential palace hosted talks on Wednesday between Russian and Ukrainian advisers, the first such face-to-face negotiations since Russia massed troops near Ukraine recently. Macron's stance reflects France's post-World War II tradition of carving its own geopolitical path, refusing to line up blindly behind the US. But this complicates efforts by the US and NATO to show a tough, united front against Russia. Experts question if it will be enough to deter a Russian invasion.

WHAT ABOUT NATO MEMBER TURKEY?

Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan says an armed attack wouldn't be a "rational" move and reiterated an offer to mediate between the two countries. NATO-member Turkey, which enjoys close relations with both Ukraine and Russia, has repeatedly offered to bring the two countries' leaders together. Turkey wants the current tensions between Russia and Ukraine to be resolved before it turns into a new crisis, Erdogan has said. He also said there was need for a "meaningful dialogue with Russia" to resolve any "reasonable" security concern it may have.

Indonesia's sinking capital is moving to new city

JAKARTA

JAKARTA is congested, polluted, prone to earthquakes and rapidly sinking into the Java Sea. Now the Indonesian government is leaving, and moving the country's capital to the island of Borneo.

President Joko Widodo envisions the construction of a new capital as a panacea for the problems plaguing Jakarta, reducing its population while allowing the country to start afresh with a "sustainable city" that has good public transportation, is integrated with its natural environment and is in an area that is not prone to natural disasters.

"The construction of the new capital city is not merely a physical move of government offices," Widodo said last week ahead of parliament's approval of the plan. "The main goal is to build a smart new city, a new city that is competitive at the global level, to build a new locomotive for the transformation ... toward an Indonesia based on innovation and technology based on a green economy."

Sceptics worry, however, about the environmental impact of plunking a sprawling 2,56,000-hectare city down in Borneo's East Kalimantan province, which is home to orangutans, leopards and a wide array of other wildlife, as well as committing USD 34 billion to the ambitious project amid a pandemic.

"The new capital city's strategic environmental study shows that there are at least three basic problems," said Dwi Sawung, an official with the WALHI environmental group. "There are threats to water systems and risks of climate change, threats to flora and fauna, and threats of pollution and environmental damage," she said. AP

N. Korea fires 2 missiles in 6th launch this year

Seoul: North Korea on Thursday fired two suspected ballistic missiles into the sea in its sixth round of weapons launches this month, South Korea's military said. Experts say North Korea's unusually fast pace in testing activity underscores an intent to pressure the US over long-stalled negotiations aimed at exchanging a release of crippling US-led sanctions. The renewed pressure comes as the pandemic further shakes the North's economy, which was already battered by crippling US-led sanctions over its nuclear weapons programme and decades of mismanagement by its own government. Raising funds for 'Jihad' treason, says Lahore HC

Lahore: Inciting public to raise funds for 'Jihad' (holy war) is not allowed to individuals or any organisation in Pakistan and is considered as treason, the Lahore High Court has ruled as it dismissed appeals of two terrorists convicted for raising funds for a proscribed terror outfit. The court ruling came on Wednesday on the appeals of Tehreek-i-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) terrorists, Muhammad Ibrahim and Ubaidur Rehman, who were arrested in Sargodha, some 200-km from Lahore, and handed down five-year imprisonment each by an anti-terrorism court for terror financing early this month. While dismissing the appeals the two-judge bench headed by Justice Ali Baqar Najafi said that it was the job of the state to collect national funds for a declared war, if essential. However, the same cannot be raised by a person or organisation, it added. PTI

Poachers jailed over killing of five Sumatran elephants

Aceh Jaya: Nearly a dozen poachers were jailed by an Indonesian court Thursday over the 2020 killing of five critically endangered Sumatran elephants and the illegal trade of their lucrative tusks, as the Southeast Asian archipelago's battle with wildlife crime continues. The Aceh Jaya district court in Sumatra handed nine men jail sentences between 10 months and nearly three-and-a-half years for the poaching. Two others were jailed for almost two years for their involvement in the trade of elephant tusks. AFP

Fukushima radiation: 6 cancer victims sue plant

Tokyo: Six people who were children living in Fukushima at the time of the 2011 nuclear disaster and have since developed thyroid cancer filed a lawsuit Thursday demanding a utility pay compensation for their illnesses, which they say were triggered by massive radiation spewed from the Fukushima nuclear plant. The people, now aged 17-27 and living in and outside of Fukushima, demand the Tokyo Electric Power Company Holdings pay a total of 616 million yen ($5.4 million) in compensation. One of the plaintiffs, identified only as a woman in her 20s, said she has had to prioritize her health over her career and has seen prejudice against thyroid cancer patients. Lawyers said it is the first group lawsuit in Japan filed by Fukushima residents over health problems linked to the disaster 11 years ago. AP

Pakistan 'not completely optimistic' of Taliban govt in Kabul, says NSA

ISLAMABAD/GENEVA

PAKISTAN'S frustration with the Afghan Taliban became evident on Thursday when its top security official said that Islamabad was "not completely optimistic" of the Taliban government in Kabul as organised terrorist networks are still operating in the war-torn nation and the Afghan soil is still being used against his country. Briefing the National Assembly Standing Committee for Foreign Affairs, National Security Adviser Moeed Yusuf spoke about the threat posed to Pakistan by the presence of the banned Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) in Afghanistan.

"Organised terrorist networks are still operating in Afghanistan and the Afghan soil is still being used against Pakistan," he said. He said Pakistan was "not completely optimistic" of the Taliban government in Afghanistan and a complete solution to all problems should not be expected with the Taliban coming into power.

UN calls on Taliban to uphold women's rights

The United Nations chief demanded that the Taliban uphold the fundamental human rights of women and children, and further urged the international community to release frozen Afghan aid to prevent families from selling babies to buy food.

Secretary-General Antonio Guterres on Wednesday also warned that "Afghanistan is hanging by a thread" as millions of impoverished citizens struggle to survive amid deteriorating humanitarian conditions. "We urge the Taliban to seize this moment and garner international trust and goodwill by recognizing — and upholding — the basic human rights that belong to every girl and woman," Guterres told a UN Security Council meeting.

He expressed concern about recent reports of arbitrary arrests and abductions of women activists, saying: "I strongly appeal for their release."

At the same time, he added, "I appeal to the international community to step up support for the people of Afghanistan," including by releasing aid funds in Washington that remain frozen by the World Bank and the US government.

Over half of all Afghans face "extreme levels of hunger," Guterres told the council, and "some families are selling their babies to purchase food."

China's UN ambassador Zhang Jun mentioned the case of one woman who "sold her two daughters and a kidney" to feed her family. "This is a human tragedy," he said, implicitly urging Washington to lift "unilateral sanctions" and ease the freeze on Afghan assets. Agencies

The deaths in Tigray are overwhelmingly from malnutrition, infectious disease and noncommunicable diseases, says a health bureau report | AP

Over 5,000 deaths under Ethiopia's Tigray blockade

NAIROBI

NEARLY 1,500 people died of malnutrition in just part of Ethiopia's blockaded Tigray region over a four-month period last year, including more than 350 young children, a new report by the region's health bureau says. It cites more than 5,000 blockade-related deaths in all from hunger and disease in the largest official death toll yet associated with the country's war.

"Deaths are alarmingly increasing," including from easily preventable diseases like rabies as medicines run out or expire, the head of Tigray's health bureau, Hagos Godefay, said late last year as the findings were being compiled.

His report on the findings, published on Wednesday by the independent Ethiopia Insight, says 5,421 deaths were confirmed in Tigray between July and October in an assessment by his bureau and some international aid groups. It was the first such assessment since the war between Tigray and Ethiopian forces began in November 2020, he said.

The deaths were overwhelmingly from malnutrition, infectious disease and noncommunicable diseases as the health bureau to gauge the effects on Tigray's population of its health system being largely destroyed by combatants.

The deaths do not reflect people killed in combat, Hagos said, though the report reflects a small percentage of deaths from airstrikes. The mortality assessment covered just roughly 40% of Tigray, he said, since occupation of some areas and the lack of fuel due to the blockade has limited data-gathering and aid delivery. AP

WHO staff accuse Western Pacific director of racism

GENEVA

CURRENT and former staffers have accused the top director of the World Health Organisation (WHO) in the Western Pacific of racist, unethical and abusive behaviour that has undermined the UN health agency's efforts to curb the Covid pandemic.

The allegations were laid out in an internal complaint filed in October and again in an email last week, sent by unidentified 'concerned WHO staff' to senior leadership and the executive board.

Two of the authors said more than 30 staffers were involved in writing it, and that it reflected the experiences of more than 50 people. The internal complaint and the email describe a 'toxic atmosphere' with 'a culture of systemic bullying and public ridiculing' at WHO's Western Pacific headquarters in Manila, led by Dr Takeshi Kasai, director of a vast region that includes China and his home country Japan.

Recorded snippets of meetings where Kasai is heard making derogatory remarks about his staff based on nationality have also been obtained. Eleven former or current WHO staffers who worked for Kasai told the AP he frequently used racist language.

The staffers, who did not identify themselves to WHO 'for fear of retaliation', said in the email that Kasai's authoritarian style has led to the departure of more than 55 key staff in the past year and a half, most of whom have not been replaced. AP

Holocaust survivor urges Germany to fight 'cancer' of hatred

BERLIN

IN what was expected to be one of the last addresses by a Holocaust survivor to the German parliament, Inge Auerbacher appealed on Thursday to keep alive the victims' memory.

Fighting back tears as she recalled the suffering and loss she endured at the hands of the Nazis, Auerbacher told the Bundestag as it marked International Holocaust Remembrance Day that it was essential to fight the spreading "cancer" of hatred.

"I have lived in New York for 75 years and can still remember well this terrible time of terror and hate," said Auerbacher, 87, who fled to Berlin in the face of the pandemic to take part in the ceremonies. "Unfortunately this cancer has resurfaced and hatred of Jews is common in many countries of the world including Germany," she said on the 77th anniversary of the liberation of the Auschwitz death camp. "This sickness must be healed as soon as possible," she added.

Auerbacher said she had been the last Jewish child born in her hometown of Kippenheim in 1934 before the Nazis' genocidal campaign.

While her grandmother was deported to Riga and murdered, Auerbacher and her parents were sent to the Theresienstadt concentration camp when she was just seven years old. She recounted the abuse and horrific conditions she and her family endured, but also her close friendship at the camp with a Jewish girl her age from Berlin, Ruth Nelly Abraham, who was later murdered at Auschwitz. Auerbacher will on Friday visit the family's home to place candles at small plaques in their memory.

The speaker of the Israeli Knesset, Mickey Levy, who was also in attendance embraced Auerbacher and wept openly as he recited a prayer for the dead. "Keeping the memory of the Holocaust alive is a difficult task, a task placed on the shoulders of the every generation," he said.

Germany has officially marked Holocaust Remembrance Day every January 27 since 1996 with commemorations across the country.

Scholz's spokesman Steffen Hebestreit noted that Germany would "soon have to go forward without the personal recollections of the last survivors".

This year's anniversary is marked by growing concerns about extremist violence and incitement in Germany, particularly among militant opponents of government coronavirus restrictions. AFP
